BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

CONFERENCE

For God So Loved . . .

SEPTEMBER 28–29

PRESTONWOOD BAPTIST CHURCH

PLANO, TEXAS

PRESTONWOOD CHRISTIAN ACADEMY

IS EXCITED TO HOST THE

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW CONFERENCE

ALONGSIDE PRESTONWOOD BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Michael Goddard Ed. D
PCA Superintendent

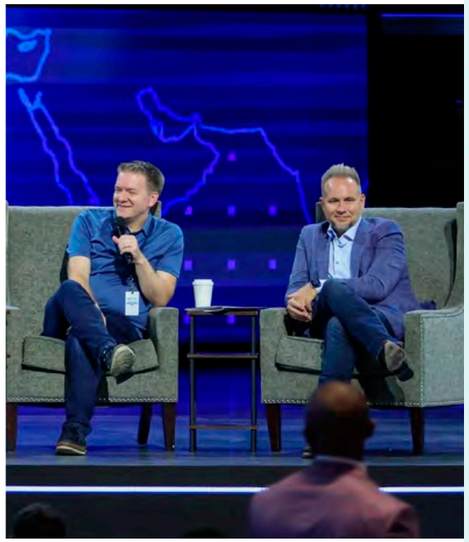

As Prestonwood Christian Academy celebrates its 30th Anniversary, PCA continues its longstanding commitment to equipping students to view the world through the lens of biblical truth. One of the most significant expressions of that mission is the Biblical Worldview Conference (BWC), the largest Biblical Worldview Conference in the world.

What began as a small training initiative has grown into a multi-day gathering designed to equip students, parents, and educators to think critically and biblically about today's cultural challenges. Through dynamic keynote speakers, engaging breakout sessions, and parent-focused programming, the BWC provides opportunities for the entire PCA community to deepen their understanding of a biblical worldview.

For 30 years, PCA has remained committed to developing Christ-centered leaders equipped to influence culture for the Kingdom of God. The Biblical Worldview Conference carries that mission forward, empowering the next generation to stand firmly on truth and lead with conviction, wisdom, and compassion.

WELCOME TO BWC!

When we consider the challenges we face as Christians in today's culture, it can be easy to feel overwhelmed.

We live in a world filled with turbulence, confusion, division, and uncertainty. Truth is questioned. Biblical values are dismissed. And there are so many questions for which we simply don't have answers.

But here is what we must remember: We may not have every answer, but we know the One who does.

As believers, now more than ever, we must stand firmly on the foundation that cannot be shaken – the Truth we do know.

We must know what we believe.
We must know why we believe it.
And we must own and grow our faith so that we can stand confidently for truth in every area of life.

And that brings us to the heart of this conference and our theme, "For God So Loved …" from John 3:16:

> "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life."

In one verse, we are reminded of the foundation of everything we believe: God's love, Christ's sacrifice, our need for salvation, and the promise of eternal life. In a culture searching for identity, purpose, truth and hope, John 3:16 points us back to the answer – Jesus Christ.

Our faith is not simply something we believe on Sunday. It is the lens through which we see everything else.

C.S. Lewis, the former atheist who became one of the 20th century's leading Christian apologists, put it this way:

"I believe in Christianity as I believe that the sun has risen; not only because I see it, but because by it I see everything else."

That is our prayer for this conference: that we would see more clearly through the truth of Scripture; that our biblical worldview would be strengthened; and that our confidence in what we believe would steadfast.

So let us know our faith.
Let us own our faith.
Let us grow in our faith.

And then let us live our faith – boldly, faithfully and without apology. Because the world doesn't need Christians who simply blend into the culture.

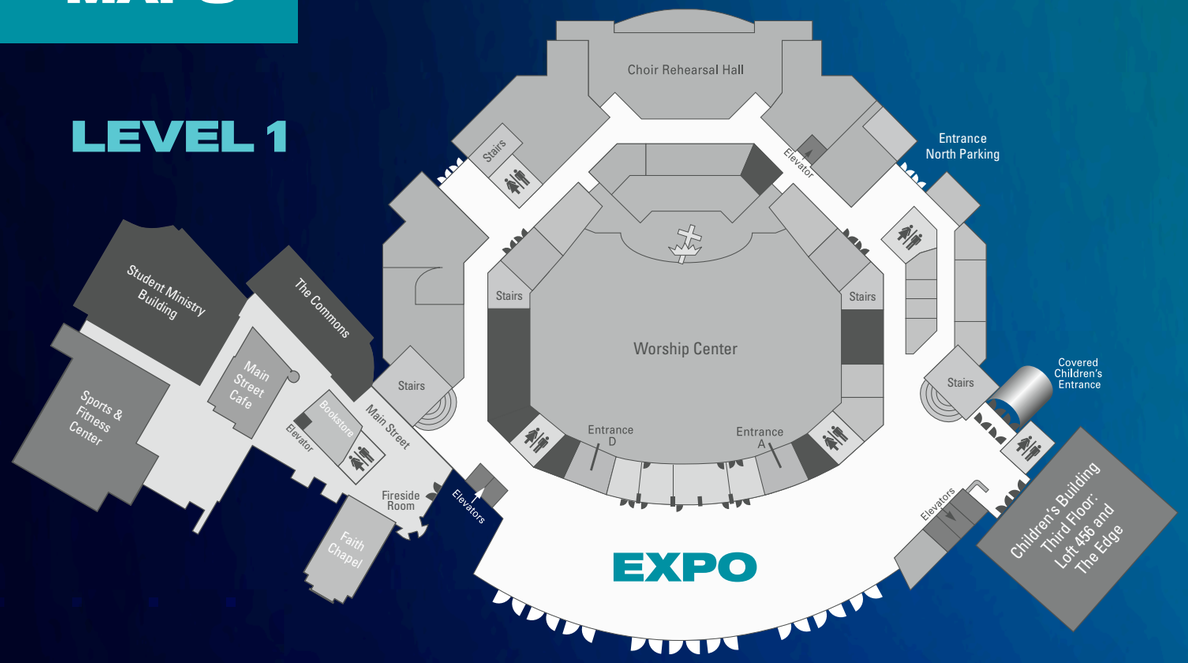

May we never lose sight of why we stand: because God so loved the world that He gave His only Son.

In Christ Alone,

DR. JACK GRAHAM
Senior Pastor | Prestonwood Baptist Church

DR. JAMES TOUR Student Ministry Building

Origin of Life and Standing for the Lord in the University

The barriers to making life, whether in a modern lab or on early earth, will be demonstrated. Stories from the field will be shared regarding standing as a believer in a secular university.

TRAVIS DICKINSON Faith Chapel

Wandering toward God: Finding Faith amid Doubts and Big Questions

What if doubt is not the enemy of faith – but an invitation to a deeper, more resilient faith? We all have questions. And along the way, many of us have some doubts. Many Christians feel pressured to keep those things hidden and often just hope they go away. Others fear that asking questions means they are losing their faith already. In this session, we'll see that wrestling with the big questions is crucial for Christian discipleship and that doubt, when handled wisely, leads to truth and even a greater faith.

PCA ALUMNI PANEL Choir Rehearsal Hall

Living Out a Biblical Worldview: An Alumni Panel

How does a biblical worldview shape life beyond PCA? Hear from alumni Josh Carter (2006), Drew Horner (2007), Markus Mortenson (2021), Samantha Seal (2020) and Parker Panetti (2019) as they share how their faith has influenced key decisions – from choosing a college and major, to navigating career paths, balancing family and work, and continuing to grow in their relationship with Christ. This panel will highlight how living with a biblical worldview impacts personal and professional choices and provides guidance for every stage of life.

DR. JASON SNYDER Loft 456 (3rd Floor, Children's Ministry Building)

Unearthing the Truth: How Archaeology Confirms the Reliability of the Bible

Can archaeology help us know whether we can trust the Bible? Come and explore some remarkable archaeological discoveries that corroborate the biblical record, focusing on the rediscovery of Jerusalem's Pool of Siloam and the ancient Pilgrim Road leading toward the Temple Mount. See how discoveries buried for centuries strengthen our confidence in the historical reliability of Scripture.

MONDAY • 12:45 PM

DOUG POWELL Worship Center

How Objective Beauty Proves God's Existence

One of the oldest and most powerful arguments for God's existence is based on the existence of beauty. Yet, in our culture where our phones give us unlimited access to music, movies, books and every other kind of art, we have lost what beauty is. Like morality and truth, it has become relativized. Understanding what beauty is will equip you with a powerful tool for defending the truthfulness of the biblical worldview at a moment in time when it is needed most.

MARCUS PRICE Student Ministry Building

Becoming a Waymaker: Living Your Faith Where God Has Placed You

God doesn't call us simply to find our way; He calls us to help make a way for others. In this practical and inspiring session, Marcus Price draws from Scripture and lessons learned through athletics, leadership, education, and life to explore what it means to become a waymaker. Attendees will discover how faith, character, perseverance, and intentional influence can turn everyday opportunities into a lasting kingdom impact on the people and generations who follow.

RYAN HELFENBEIN Faith Chapel

Gnosticism, Nihilism and the New Humanity

Gnosticism and nihilism are resurfacing in our culture today; there is nothing new under the sun. The same heresies the early church had to fight are appearing again, and Christians must learn how to recognize these old lies in their new forms and respond with biblical truth. Only Jesus Christ – the way, the truth and the life – stands as the answer to every lie the Enemy repackages.

PRESTONWOOD BAPTIST CHURCH WORSHIP Choir Rehearsal Hall

His Name, His Fame: When Culture Leads Worship

In a culture driven by platforms, influencers, followers and visibility, it's easy to measure success by recognition rather than faithfulness. This breakout session challenges worship leaders, musicians and creators to pursue excellence without chasing recognition, steward influence without making it the goal, and keep the gift from becoming greater than the One who gave it. Together, we'll return to a biblical perspective of worship rooted in humility, holiness and servanthood, remembering that every gift and opportunity exist for His name and His fame. The goal isn't to make us known; it's to make Jesus known.

DR. DONOVAN KELLY Loft 456 (3rd Floor, Children's Ministry Building)

From Performance to Presence: Living from Identity Rather than Anxiety

The Gospel teaches that our identity and acceptance before God rest not in our inconsistent performance, but in Christ's finished work. Because there is no condemnation for those who are in Christ, we are free to pursue obedience – not as servants trying to earn a place, but as sons and daughters who already belong.

TUESDAY • 10:35 AM

SCOTT HANSON Worship Center

Faith, Family & Football

How I've Seen God Move in a 30-Year Career on Sports Television

MEGAN BASHAM Student Ministry Building

Wolves, Slogans, and Spiritual Counterfeits

False teaching rarely announces itself as rebellion against God. More often it enters through trusted voices and familiar Christian terms. Megan Basham takes attendees behind several real campaigns designed to degrade evangelical convictions and explains how institutional pressure, secular funding, corporate respectability and fear of controversy can gradually reshape Christian teaching. Attendees will learn how to recognize the pattern, ask better questions, and respond with both courage and biblical clarity.

DAN PATERSON Faith Chapel

ENDGAME: Making Sense of Suffering and Scripture

What if two of Christianity's greatest difficulties – the suffering in God's world and the ambiguity in God's Word – are illuminated by the same theological story? Christian answers to the problem of evil and Scripture's uncertainty can often feel piecemeal and unpersuasive when disconnected from God's purposes for humanity. Drawing from creation to new creation, this seminar explores how God's endgame helps us develop answers that are theologically coherent, apologetically compelling, and pastorally sensitive.

SAMANTHA SEAL Choir Rehearsal Hall

Loving in Babylon: Being a Servant of Christ in the City of Power

Last year, Samantha Seal shared her story of leading in Babylon – standing for Christ in our nation's capital. Now she's back to share the next chapter: Loving in Babylon. What does it look like to follow Jesus' instruction to love our enemies when you're surrounded by influence, ambition and earthly power? Hear how Samantha has wrestled with this countercultural command and learn how to move beyond simply standing firm in your convictions to loving, serving and praying for the very people who oppose them.

COLE TRAVIS Loft 456 (3rd Floor, Children's Ministry Building)

What Am I Supposed to Do with My Life? Finding Your Calling Within God's Design

JOSHUA BECKER Student Ministry Building

You Can't Change the World with Your Hands Full: The Case for Minimalism

On average, we see 5,000 advertisements every day telling us to buy more. But what has all that consuming actually given us – and what becomes possible when we choose to live differently? In this breakout session, Joshua Becker shares the surprising story of how discovering minimalism changed his life and freed him for greater impact than he ever imagined. More importantly, he'll show how owning less can free your life for greater joy, meaning, focus and impact in the kingdom of God. This session may forever change how you view money, possessions and the potential of your life.

ELIJAH O'NEAL Faith Chapel

America 250: The Christian's Role as a Citizen

As we celebrate 250 years of American history, it is important to remember the principles and Christian heritage that helped shape our nation. This session teaches us about the Christian's responsibility as a citizen and how we can faithfully engage in our communities, uphold our God-given rights, and help preserve the principles that have shaped America.

DAVID MARTIN Choir Rehearsal Hall

Reading the Room: Sharing Jesus in Any Culture

In this session, you will learn to "read the room" of someone else's culture – discerning the most relevant, contextual way to share the Gospel with the aim of leading someone to follow Christ. The Gospel is one unchanging message that can be shared in countless different ways. David Martin's prayer is that you will leave with practical tools to ask good questions, cultivate cultural curiosity, and share your faith.

He made the world's first car out of a single molecule. And he says nobody on earth, in any lab, has come close to building even one living cell from scratch. Not with the best equipment. Not with the smartest scientists. Not after 70 years of trying. So where did life come from? In this live conversation with Dr. Jeremiah Johnston, the professor explains what the textbooks leave out, why the toughest problem in science points somewhere your teachers may not expect, and how a top scientist ended up following Jesus.

What if God has already answered Christianity's greatest critics with inspired apologetics? Christian answers to objections such as divine hiddenness can often feel piecemeal and unpersuasive when untethered from Scripture's story. So before reaching for the wells of history, science or philosophy, apologetics should first draw from the riches of the Christian story, describing how God's endgame in the Scriptures speaks to life's deepest questions.

endowment

One of the most distinctive programs of Prestonwood Christian Academy School System is the intentional focus on developing a biblical worldview. The Biblical Worldview Conference was created to give students, faculty, and parents the opportunity to think critically about Christianity around the world! It helps us understand our response to a broken, fallen world through the lens of God's Word.

Generous Alumni parents Steve and Dianne Prowse were grateful for the impact this training had in the lives of their children and were inspired to establish an endowment to ensure the continuity of Biblical Worldview integration into the culture and curriculum of Prestonwood Christian Academy.

Endowments provide perpetual funding to PCA and serve as the backbone of future growth in many programs, like the PCA Learning Lab and Sponsor-A-Lion tuition assistance program. A named endowment at PCA is invested immediately and harvested annually to support a program of the donors' choosing.
